But the officials who allowed a steamer like that to darry sixty passengers, when it possessed only one small boas and no life buoys, and no appliances for extinguishing fires, are certainly most culpable, and should be made to answer for their carelessness. As a matter of fact the fire would probably not have occurred had a European engineer been in charge, or at all events it would soon have been checked. Sir Redmond Barry: Judge of the Victorian

Supreme Court, died this morning at 6 o'clock. Although he had been unwell for a few days, still his death was quite unexpected. Sir Redmond Barry first became ill with a carbuncle in the neck on November 2nd, four lays after sen- bales waste silk, 72 pkgs. sundries. tencing Kelly to death. At first it was not thought serious, although painful, and the judge was confined to his house nearly ever since. He attended court on the 11th and 13th instant, and also attended a meeting of the Council of the University on the 15th. The carbuncle after this assumed immonse proportions, and the case became serious. Yesterday, however, deceased appeared much better, and the latest hilletins last night were favourable. During the night, On Paris .however, he collapsed, and died at six o'clock this morning. News of his Honour's decease took the city by surprise. On every hand deep regret is expressed. The courts are not sitting to day, as it is a public holiday. The city corporation flag and flags all over the city are halfmust. Deceased was ope of the hardest-working and most conscientions of the four judges. During thirty years on the bench he only had one leave of absence of any duration. He was sixty-seven

HOME TELEGRAMS. London, November 20th.

The sculling contest for the Hop Bitters Co.'s prizes were brought to a close to-day on the Thames, when Elias Laycock, of Sydney, won the first prize, £300. The second prize, £300, was won by Wallace Ross, of New Brunswick; the third prize, £110, was won by George Hosmer, of America; and the fourth, 260, by Charles Smith, of the Thames. Laycock won by two lengths, from Ross, after a good race. Hosmer and Smith had no show against Laycook and Ross. Laycook was the favourite at starting. The great soulling race between Trickett and Ross, for £200 a side, came off to-day on the Thames between Putney and Mortlake. The race was an ansatisfactory one. Shortly after the start a foul occurred between the two men, and after they separated Trickett went to the front and won easily. In consequence of the foul the referee decided that the race should be rowed over again on Saturday next,

London, November 24th. A large gathering of meinbers of the Fenian organisation has been held at Cork during the week. The object of the meeting was to prepare plans for the celebration of the anniversary of the execution of the so-called Manchester mortyrs, who suffered death for the murder of Sergeant Brett, and another constable, at Manchester. A number of the most prominent members of the gathering were arrested, and have been committed for trial. - LONDON, November 29th,

A match between Laycock and Hanlan for the scalling championship of the world has been arranged: The race will take place early in January. The Hop Ditters Company has contributed £1.000 for the event, to be awarded to the winner. In consequence of this liberality, Hanlan has agreed that the stakes shall be £500 a side: The two men have gone into training. Lord Dufferin during his stay here has received certain instructions from the Government, and returns to his post at St. Petersburg authorized to arrange questions relating to Asia. The Rev. EDUCATION IN YOKOHAMA. Visitors to Yokohama, more especially those coming via India and China, are invariably impressed by the robust and healthful appearance of the children of foreign parents, now thank God; so numerous in Yokohama; Japan is indeed a children's paradise in many respects. The climate, exhausting as it sometimes proves to their olders, as a rule agrees marvellously with European children, as it needs but a glance at fine afternoon in the Bluff gardens or on the Bund, to prove. The mertality among the children of Europeans in Yokohama is almost nothing, although, as is well known, in almost furnish the larger proportion of its death rate There are reasons for this beyond mere healthfulness of climate. - Several diseases most fatal to children elsewhere are mre or unknown in epidemio, the latter totally unknown. There is however, a cause enforcing such separation here almost as officient as that of climate further South, though the separation may be longer delayed. We allade to the want of proper facilities for the education of European children in anything beyond mere radiments. It is a fact that almost any Japanese youth, of the upper or middle classes, has infinitely better opportunities to acquire a round education, even in English, than are within the reach of the average child of European parentage, sprovided the latter remains in Japan. It seems to us that there is no sufficient reason for the existence of CCOTTISH IMPERIAL INSURANCE such a state of affairs. The number of European The Smilly is a sailing season of 120 tons, children in the treaty ports of Japan is large and was paid off and recommissioned on the 1st and increasing, and is already, sufficient to afford ging support to at least one school of the better grade. PRONUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new compelled to coin to express the numerous ob-Jests in machinery, photography, telegraphy and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Panti pronunciations are given, the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography pared to accept Risks against Fire at Current J. H. Pinchyoss, Esq. F. D. Hitch, Esq. displays the success of an attempt to make the Rates, subject to a Bonus of 20 per cent. Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins. and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers' Vecabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100.000, whilst this work contains mere than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the [1949 student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-

the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English HINCORPORATED BY BOYAL CHARTER OF HIS to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in Chine, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted.
